Students and their parents receive a Stage Handbook outlining the relevant level of their schooling. This particular Handbook is for students entering the School in either Year 7 or 8 and is called the Stage 4 Handbook. In addition to this Handbook, there is an Assessment Policy and Procedures Handbook, which is on the School website.

Year 7 students take part in an Orientation Day in Term 4 and another 2 days of orientations at the beginning of Year 7. On this day, students are provided information about the routines of the School and their particular year group. 6. ACADEMIC WORK

Malek Fahd Islamic School is committed to academic excellence and students are expected to complete all academic work to the best of their ability.

When students are falling behind in their academic studies or their behaviour is inappropriate in the classroom situation, they may be placed on a weekly Progress Report Card. Parents will be notified if this occurs and a subsequent meeting will be arranged.

The following guidelines have been set down to assist students and parents in understanding the requirements for homework.

Student Diaries are essential for recording of homework and the due date, as well as a method of organisation. The diary is the main means of communication between the School and the parents. Consistent monitoring of progress is essential and problems can be addressed quickly.

Parents need to check the diaries to for any comments made by teachers each day.

HOMEWORK

The purpose of homework may be to reinforce or consolidate learning that has taken place in class or it may be used to develop knowledge and skills beyond those of the normal classroom. Homework is only set when it is meaningful and serves the purpose of enhancing learning. Completing homework on a regular basis helps students to develop independence and good practices as a learner. In Secondary School, the homework given becomes more complex and can include research and the learning of new concepts independently to that of the classroom experience.

The nature of homework varies from subject to subject and from year to year, but generally fits within these categories:

- Set daily homework: set by the teachers to consolidate the day's learning experiences. It is vital to keep up-to-date with this type of homework. Regular attention to homework is the essential basis of all good study habits. Parents will be contacted by the subject teacher if homework is not completed.

- Assignments: vary in length and nature. Many require library and/or internet research, while others may require experiments or collection of data or specimens at home. It is most important to prepare the assignment over the whole of the time allocated and not to leave it to the last night/s. Time management is vital in the development of independent study skills.

- Preparation for work to be done at the next lesson: e.g. preparing practical work by reading through the experimental method, preparing art/music exercises, organising books and other equipment needed, checking P.E. uniform is ready, etc.

- Revision of daily work: students are encouraged to review the day’s work, especially to clarify areas of difficulty.

- Revision of past work: to review past work to consolidate knowledge and understanding.

- Preparation for new topics: all students are encouraged to read widely from diverse sources and to use local and school library resources.

Students should spend a certain period of time at home involved in school studies each evening, however, the importance of leisure time should be promoted. The subjects should be the ones students have had at school that day. The suggested guideline for a Year 7 student is that they should complete up to 1½ hours per night (5 times per week) and Year 8 students should complete up to 2 hours per night (5 times per week).

All students should be developing good study and organisation skills and becoming self-reliant and independent learners at home, as well as at school. Students are encouraged to use class time efficiently to reduce the amount of home study needed.

Regular homework is essential follow-up to the academic subjects studied at school. There is no such thing as "no homework". On particular occasions, or in particular subjects, no formal homework may be set. However, there is always home study in the form of revision, preparation for future lessons, personal research work, consolidation of previous work, project/assignment work, reading novels, and preparation for class tests/examinations.

ASSESSMENT AND REPORTING

Assessment allows students to demonstrate what they know and can do in relation to the mandated syllabus content, learning outcomes and skills. It serves to provide feedback to students and teachers. In the pursuit for continual improvement, assessment empowers students in their understanding of their own learning, their strengths, the areas requiring development and their individual learning styles. As such, assessment in the academic subjects is based on all coursework covered throughout the school year and includes all tasks, as well as examinations, in keeping with the syllabus outcomes.

Reporting allows for further feedback to students and to their parents. The School provides an Interim Academic Report to all families toward the end of Term 1. This one page report is designed to provide a simple, yet meaningful overview of the student’s application to their studies and on their progress in each academic subject.

Reports that are more detailed are issued for each course studied and are issued half yearly and yearly. These reports are a more thorough report outlining the achievements of the student in each course. This includes a mark, the student’s rank relative to their peers, a grade on the A – E scale, as well as full comments on the student’s progress.

Other types of progress reports may be requested by staff or parents if there is concern regarding progress, socialisation or behaviour etc.

Examinations form part of the Assessment program in all year levels.

Students in Years 7 and 8 take part in formal examinations in Semester One and Semester Two in all subjects.

The timing of examinations does not suggest that course work has been completed for the Semester or for the entire school year. They are merely part of the assessment process. There are specific skills used in examinations and it is the aim of the College that these skills are developed over the years so that when the formal external ALLWELL, NAPLAN and Higher School Certificate examinations come up later in the student’s schooling, they have the experience required in order to perform well.
NEW STUDENTS SITTING EXAMS

Students who commence at the School more than half-way through a Semester may be considered exempt from sitting examinations or from having the examination result and rank reported on. Discussion with the parents, the student and the teachers will take place with the aim of determining whether sitting all or part of the examinations is appropriate. Reporting on students in these circumstances will be as per take-home exams, i.e.: any results or part-results for sections completed will be included in the comment only. These students will not be ranked.

ASSESSMENT RULES

WHAT TO DO

To avoid any problems, submit assessment tasks as per the instructions on your Assessment Notification Sheet:

✓ to the right person (the teacher of the subject)
✓ at the right place
✓ at the right date and time (normally in the timetabled lesson, sometimes in the morning)

ABSENCES

Follow these procedures:

✓ Phone the School before 8.20am and leave a message for the teacher concerned.

✓ On the first day back after your absence, find your subject teacher before school and show the teacher your note from your medical practitioner explaining your absence. If it is a hand-in task, then give this to your teacher immediately. If it is an in-class task, then your teacher will make arrangements for you to do it at another time and will discuss this with you.

OTHER RULES

X Difficulties with technology, e.g. printers/USB drives, are not an acceptable excuse for failing to be ready for an assessment task.

X Penalties apply when you fail to follow these procedures, i.e. the loss of 20% of the maximum mark progressively per day. After 3 days, you will receive a mark of zero. The task will still need to be completed, regardless.

In exceptional circumstances, you may apply for an extension to the due date for a hand-in assessment task. See the relevant Subject Coordinator in this rare event or have your parent contact them. It is not automatic that an application for an extension will be approved.
1. Medical certificates

a) The medical certificate should give some details of the illness. This certificate must include a date and reason. It is your responsibility to bring this to the attention of the medical practitioner.

b) Overseas trips, extended holidays, dental appointments, meeting relatives or going to the airport to meet relatives etc. are not valid reasons for missing assessment tasks.

c) In situations where you are required to be absent from school for extended periods of time, such as family reasons or severe illness, you must request leave from the Principal in advance. If the requested leave is granted, you need to negotiate the completion of your assessment tasks with the relevant Head Teachers for each course that you are studying.

d) Students who habitually present doctors’ certificates for assessment tasks will be deemed non-serious students unless the school is aware of a prior medical condition.

e) Backdated medical certificates are not acceptable.

f) Medical certificates issued by a family member or friend are not acceptable.

2. Late Assessment Tasks

The same procedures for failure to complete assessment tasks will apply. Technology failure is not an acceptable reason for a late assessment task. Students are expected to allow sufficient time for printing etc. Students are encouraged to make copies of their work and keep these for the duration of the course. When completing an assignment on the computer, students are also encouraged to print a copy of their draft as in the case of computer malfunction, the draft can be used by subject teachers to determine student progress and their level of knowledge and understanding. This will be determined by the subject teachers (in consultation with the Head of Department) at their discretion.

If the assessment task is handed in late, a 10% penalty for each day late will apply. Weekends will count as 2 days.

3. Malpractice/Plagiarism

Malpractice includes providing false documentation in support of an Appeal, misbehavior/disruption in the Examination Hall, possession of mobile phone/electronic device, serious failure to follow supervisor’s instructions or cheating during examinations.

A student who submits material that has been copied from another source, including material from another student will be penalised. Plagiarism of any sort either will result in a reduction of marks, or in serious cases, will be awarded a zero.
4. Unfair Advantage

Students are expected to be at school for roll-call, all timetabled lessons and activities. Your absence from classes prior to a hand-in or in-class task will be treated in the same way as an absence from the task or failure to submit the task. The same procedure should be followed.

Students are expected to attend school every day including the days leading up to assessment tasks. If a student is absent on the day before an assessment task is due, a 10% penalty will apply (unless official leave has been granted by the School). If the assessment task is on a Monday, the student must be present on the Friday before.

If a student, deliberately or accidentally, does something, which gives them an unfair advantage, they may be awarded a zero mark for that assessment task. Some of the examples which may be considered to be giving an unfair advantage include, but is not limited to:

- Staying away from school or sports lessons to complete assignments that need to be completed in their own time
- Handing in work after the designated time
- Copying other people’s work or allowing your work to be copied by others
- Not organising to do an alternate task at an alternate time if you know you will be away

5. Reviews and Appeals

It should be noted that the marks awarded for each task are only to be queried at the time the tasks are returned. Should a circumstance other than absence, lateness or plagiarism occur, then the Head of Department reserves the right to adjudicate.

In cases where a student feels they have a genuine reason for appealing an “N” Determination, they should firstly consult the class teacher and then, if not satisfied, submit a written appeal to the relevant Head Teacher within three school days of the determination. Further appeals can be made to the Deputy Principal in cases where the student is unsatisfied with the Head Teacher’s decision.

6. Disabilities Provisions (Refer to Disability Provisions Policy)

If the student has a diagnosed medical condition such as a mental health issue or diagnosed learning difficulty, he/she may be eligible for Disabilities Provisions. They may also apply for school based assessment tasks. Should your child be eligible, please contact the school counsellor.
PARENT/TEACHER AFTERNOONS

Opportunities for discussion between the child, parent/guardians and teachers are provided following the issuing of written reports. This provides an opportunity to discuss all aspects of the report and to give constructive advice that assists in the ongoing development of learning.

If it is impossible for a parent/guardian to attend the planned Parent/Teacher Interviews then it may be possible for phone interviews to be arranged.

PARENT INFORMATION EVENINGS

These evenings are held in different year groups to discuss curriculum, courses and elective choices etc. They are usually held at various times throughout the year depending on the stage of learning and relevance of the agenda items.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION EVENINGS

These evenings are held in different year groups to discuss curriculum, courses available and elective choices that students may need to choose from for the following year.

Dear (Parent/Guardian Name)

Re: (Student name)

(Subject teacher name) has previously spoken to you by phone informing you that (student name) has not submitted his assignment on ……… /or is not completing homework on a regular basis in (subject).

I now write to you expressing my concern in relation to this incomplete work. Despite warnings in relation to this (Student) has not responded to the request to submit this work.

In order to achieve the course outcomes students should complete all tasks asked of them and to an acceptable standard for his/her ability. As a result of (student) not submitting this work (he/she) may be deemed not to have satisfactorily completed course requirements and hence may receive a NA (Not Achieving) Grade on (his/her) School report this semester.

I expect that you share the School's concern regarding (student name) and that you will encourage (him/her) to complete all set work.

I would be happy to arrange an interview with you, (student name) and (class teacher) so that this situation can be discussed further. Please phone me at School on (telephone no).

www.mfis.nsw.edu.au

Afternoon Detention

For certain breaches of School Rules students may be placed on Afternoon Detention. These detentions are run by the Welfare Coordinators on specific days of the week from 3:30pm – 4:20pm. Parents will be notified via a letter if this should occur.

It is at the Principal's discretion to amend levels of punishment as deemed appropriate.

It is important to realise that principles of procedural fairness will apply and that students will have the opportunity to appeal any decisions. Parental involvement will be required in such incidences, with the appropriate Coordinator, Head of Secondary or Principal.

MOVEMENT BETWEEN CLASSES
Some lessons require students to move out to another Specialty Classroom (Computer labs, Science labs, Library, Tech/Music/Art Rooms). Students will wait for their teacher who will escort them to the Specialty Room and back to Class at the end of the lesson.

Students are expected to move quickly and quietly between rooms to maximize learning time.

BEHAVIOUR IN THE MOSQUE

All students are to display the highest standard of behavior in the mosque and concentrate on prayer at all times. Upon conclusion of prayer students are to move quietly and quickly, put on their shoes and head straight to their Period 6 lesson.

Any student misbehaving in the Mosque will be referred to the Welfare Coordinators by Prefects and may be placed on Afternoon Detention.

BULLYING

Malek Fahd Islamic School is committed to providing all students with an environment that is safe, supportive and caring. Positive interaction and co-operation are encouraged where the individual and personal property is respected. Students who feel they are being targeted have the right to seek and receive help from adults. It is important that they realise that seeking such assistance is an appropriate and acceptable response.

For students it means:

1. Being prepared to report any bullying that is seen or at least to take action to stop it. Being a passive bystander only condones the action and bullies often look for crowd support.
2. Seeking by words and actions to create an environment where bullying is unacceptable, ie: not siding with bullies and being prepared to tell them to stop or to report them.
3. If one is a target of bullying it is essential that the individual does not assume that it is his or her own fault and that nothing will be done about it or that it cannot be prevented.

Bullying repeatedly and/or consciously hurting another individual or group or making them feel uncomfortable is unacceptable behaviour.

DRUGS/ WEAPONS

The possession or use of any prohibited drugs or alcohol, or any dealing in such substances is forbidden. The carrying of any sort of weapon is also forbidden. Weapons or objects likely to cause injury must not be brought into the School or taken to any School activity.

The Principal of Malek Fahd Islamic School or his delegate reserves the right to search the locker, bag or person of any student on reasonable grounds. Offenders will be dealt with severely by the Principal. In some instances the Police may be contacted.
DISALLOWED ITEMS

Chewing gum is banned, along with white out, spray paint and dangerous items, such as knives, water pistols, metal rulers etc. Rough games which place any student at risk of injury are forbidden.

MOBILE PHONES

The School understands that mobile phones are given to students by their parents for valid reasons and therefore students may have them with them during school hours at the consent of their parents.

The School appreciates the practical implications of a zero tolerance approach as enforceability would be extremely difficult if not impossible.

The School has a no visibility policy whereby students are prohibited from using phones while on School premises during normal school hours. In a situation where students need to call parents, the front office is to be used.

The explicit use of mobile phones for invalid reasons during school hours is prohibited. Invalid reasons may constitute sending pictures or posting information on social media. Such actions may breach privacy laws, may infringe on the effective learning of students and may adversely impact on the effective running of the School.

The valid use of a mobile phone may constitute a student who uses the phone as they are walking home to reassure their parents as to their safety or calling parents to inform them the bus is running behind schedule.

The School will exercise discretion and be pragmatic in its approach in determining what constitute a valid or invalid use with the Principal having ultimate authority and discretion.

In a situation, where it’s deemed that an invalid use has occurred and the student is in breach the following may apply:

- First offence-device is confiscated - parent notified
- Second offence-device is confiscated for a week - parent notified and after school detention issued

SCHOOL FUNCTIONS

The consumption of alcohol, the use of illicit drugs and tobacco is strictly prohibited at any function organised by the School for students.

IN SUMMARY

The staff at Malek Fahd Islamic School will always endeavour to encourage students to be responsible members of the school community.

The School has endeavoured to ensure that all students’ work can be saved, stored and accessed in a secure manner. It is expected that all students will respect the right of other students to use the network resources.

It is also expected that all students will respect that the information technology equipment with which they have been provided, and realise that using this equipment is a privilege, not a right. This privilege can be withdrawn if necessary.

Please note:
• Secondary students are required to use only their own personal username and password.
• At all times preference on all School computer systems is given to students undertaking research and academic studies.
• Whilst the School takes every care to ensure the safety of students online, the primary responsibility (in the Secondary School) rests with the student.

9. RATIONALE for ASSESSMENTS

All assessments in Year 7 and 8 courses at Malek Fahd Islamic School will be carried out in order to comply with all NESA regulations and guidelines.

Assessment Schedules and all Assessment Task items are designed and/or revised in compliance with the relevant and latest documents for each course. The documents are available for download from the NSW Board of Studies website: www.boardofstudies.nsw.edu.au

These documents include:

- The Course Syllabus.
- Support Documents.
- Assessment Guidelines.

Good Assessment Practice can be organised as follows:

- Assessment procedures and grading must be clearly understood by students, parents and teachers. For this reason we must provide students with the rubric to be used in the evaluation process and the criteria against which they will be judged. This informs the student and gives them a sense of being responsible for their own learning.

- Tasks must be easy to complete in the time available (i.e. tasks must be achievable within the time available).

- The tasks must accurately reflect and evolve from clearly specified and appropriate achievement expectations for students.

- The tasks must accurately reflect the intended curricular/course objective.

- Tasks should provide a representative sample of student performance that is sufficient in its scope to allow for conclusions about student achievement to be drawn.

- Assessment tasks should be designed, developed and used in a manner that attempts to eliminate bias.

- The assessment task must measure what we mean to measure efficiently.

- Tasks must give appropriate weight to all significant aspects of learning including subject specific knowledge and skills, both theoretical and practical, and non-subject specific knowledge and skills.

- The assessment tasks must be efficient in achieving parity:
  - Within the class group.
  - Between courses in the same subject.
  - Across year group.
Assessment for Year 7 – 8 is prescribed by NESA for each syllabus studied.

Student assessment should indicate the student's overall achievement in a course on its completion. Assessment in a course should relate to the stated objectives and outcomes as described in the syllabus. No specific allocation of marks is required for any syllabus objectives or outcomes.

The Assessment schedule for each course illustrates the following information about each task:

- The name of the task.
- Date due.
- Topic focus.
- Syllabus outcomes being assessed.
- Syllabus component weightings where applicable.
- Total Weighting as a percentage.

10. REFERENCING – PREPARING STUDENTS

Students should be taught and encouraged to reference their work correctly.

What is referencing?

Referencing is a method of acknowledging the sources of information and ideas you have used in any assignment. In order to reference all information and ideas you must include at the end of your essay a list of references or a bibliography of materials used in writing the assignment.

Why do you need to reference?

1. To acknowledge the work of others and to avoid plagiarism (not acknowledging is the same as stealing another person’s work).
2. To allow the reader to verify quotations and use your sources to find further information.
3. To enhance the credibility of your information.

What do you need to reference?

1. Direct quotes
2. Ideas you have summarized
3. Statistics
4. Electronic sources such as web pages, emails, journal articles etc.

Which style do you need to use at Malek Fahd Islamic School?

There are numerous styles of referencing which ensure accuracy and consistency. At Malek Fahd Islamic School we use the Harvard author-date method. Students should be encouraged to use this.
PREPARING TO REFERENCE

As you are researching and writing your paper it is a good idea to take down the full bibliographic details (Author, Date of Publication, Title, Publisher,) including the page numbers from which the information is taken. Remember to do this as you use each item (either electronic or print) – it can be very difficult and time consuming to follow up references later. You may like to create a separate word document to store this bibliographic information, when it comes time to completing your Reference List you can simply copy and paste the details of each item.

INTRODUCTION TO HARVARD

The Harvard author-date style of referencing is widely accepted in academic and school publications, although you may see variations in the way it is used.

This style of referencing requires that you acknowledge the source of your information or ideas in these two ways:

1. In the text (known as in-text citation). You need to include the author and date of the publication referred to or cited within the body of your essay. Eg: (Dunk, 2006)

2. In a reference list or bibliography at the end of your essay, which gives the full details of the works you have referred to, or cited.

WHAT IS IN-TEXT REFERENCING?

WITHIN THE TEXT OF YOUR ASSIGNMENT, YOU MAY ACKNOWLEDGE ANOTHER AUTHOR’S WORK BY DIRECT QUOTE, PARAPHRASE OR SUMMARISATION OF THEIR ORIGINAL WORDS.

What is a direct quotation?

You may quote the author’s exact words to support your argument – note ‘in text citation’

What is paraphrasing?

You may paraphrase an author’s words or ideas – restating them in your own words, but without altering their meaning or providing your own interpretation.

What is a summary?

You may summarise – use your own words to present the key points of an author’s argument or ideas, without altering the meaning.

Reference list tips

The reference list, normally headed ‘References’, should appear at the end of your work, and should include details of all the sources of information, which you have referred to, or cited, in your text. A Reference list refers to all books you have read in preparation for your assignment. Whereas a Bibliography refers only to the texts you have directly quoted from.

Malek Fahd Islamic School requires all texts in the form of a Reference List to be acknowledged in all assignments.

ORDER OF ITEMS IN THE LIST

The items in the reference list are arranged alphabetically by the authors’ surname. Where you have cited more than one work by the same author, those items are then arranged by date, starting with the earliest.
PUNCTUATION AND SPACING IN THE CITATION

Some general rules apply:
• Authors’ names: Use only the initials of the authors’ given names.
• Titles of works:
  ▪ Use minimal capitalization for the titles of books, book chapters and journal articles.
  ▪ In the titles of journals, magazines and newspapers, capital letters should be used as they appear normally.
  ▪ Italicise the titles of books, journals, and newspapers.
  ▪ Enclose titles of book chapters and journal articles in single quotation marks.
  ▪ Each element of the citation is separated by a comma.
  ▪ Each citation ends with a full stop.
• Page numbering:
  ▪ Use the abbreviations p. for a single page, and pp. for a page range, e.g. pp.11-12.
• Whole citation:
  ▪ Commas separate the different details, or elements, of each citation.
  ▪ The whole citation finishes with a full stop.
